

Outdoor Adventures

Summer 2010

An occupational therapist and speech-language pathologist lead this series of fun-filled, small-group sessions held outdoors for children who are experiencing sensory processing, motor planning difficulties, and communication and interaction problems. This group will be held at a mutually-agreed-upon local park where the children will play and interact with each other and staff. Group participants will work on the following areas:

- Self-regulation and sensory issues
- Play skills
- Motor planning
- Abstract thinking, problem-solving and sequencing
- Socialization and communication skills
- Language
- Visual-spatial skills

A current occupational therapy evaluation and speech-language evaluation or IEP are required for admission. Parents will transport their own children to the selected park location. TLC CANNOT transport children to or from the park.
