TLC—The Treatment and Learning Centers’ Katherine Thomas School Students Visit the Mayor of Rockville

Rockville, Md.—TLC—The Treatment and Learning Centers, a local, private, non-profit agency providing educational, vocational, and therapeutic services to children and adults with disabilities and typically developing children, announced today that children from Ms. Handleman’s and Ms. Lenarcic’s 1st and 2nd grade class had an opportunity to visit Mayor Giammo (Mayor of Rockville) on Thursday, November 9, 2006. The children, students at TLC’s Katherine Thomas School, are studying “Our Community” and have learned that in City Hall they work to solve problems. Students visited the mayor and asked him how he solves problems. The children asked questions, and took a tour of the Mayor’s office and council chambers. Mayor Giammo explained how City Hall works and discussed the flag of Rockville, Montgomery County, and the Sister City, Pinneberg, Germany. The children were able to sit in council chairs and pretend they were having a meeting “solving the problems of the city.” The mayor gave the students T-shirts of Rockville, a pin of the Rockville flag, and pencils.
